

Master of Accountancy in Taxation

Improve and refine your technical abilities in taxation

The Rutgers Business School Master of Accountancy in Taxation is a 30-credit, online-hybrid, part-time program designed for the busy, working professional. It is highly flexible and provides a competitive advantage for professionals seeking to advance in the field of taxation, while satisfying the 150-hour requirement for the CPA exam. The program focuses on developing strong analytical, research, and communication skills in graduates who possess the ability to leverage the interrelations among business, finance, and taxation.

Students have the option to attend classes virtually in real-time, which provides an added level of convenience in addition to the benefits of the traditional classroom experience. The combination of top-quality faculty, student successes, and high return on investment helped to rank the program as #5 of the top Master's in Taxation programs in the US.

Faculty Profile: Jay Soled

Professor Soled is the Director of the Master of Accountancy in Taxation program. He is admitted to practice in New Jersey, the U.S. District Court, District of New Jersey, and New York. He is a member of the Essex County

(Section of Taxation) and American Bar Associations. A magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Haverford College, he holds a Juris Doctor degree from University of Michigan School of Law, cum laude, and a Master of Laws degree in Taxation from the New York University School of Law where he was an editor of the Tax Law Review.

Over his tenure at Rutgers, Professor Soled has a flare for the classroom. The recipient of five teaching awards, he brings animation to what others might think is a dry subject. Aside from having written numerous law review articles, books, and op-eds, Professor Soled has been featured as a tax expert on several television shows and radio programs. Professor Soled has also been an expert witness in close to a dozen tax matter controversies.
